GIANTS WIN THEIR SECOND VICTORY

EAST CENTRAL'S GRID MEN FIGHT BAPTIST U. TEAM

Local College Season is Opened in Hard Game at Home Today.

THOMPSON CONFIDENT

Pep Demonstrations May Help Home Squad to Win in Opener.

At three o'clock this afternoon East Central's football hopes were battling their way on College field to a decision with the Bison squad of Oklahoma Baptist University of Shawnee.

Coach Thompson had given his men final instructions and earlier today said he was confident they would win. However, as he has never seen the men against a formidable foe this year, he was unable to give a more definite opinion as to how the team would operate.

Montgomery went in to furnish the headwork for the opening of the game at quarterback. Thompson said that Boach and Gatlin were removed from the line-up because they were ineligible for the first game. Several of the men who were injured in the hard seasoning work, have fully recovered and were in today's game.

Muscle for the occasion was furnished by the college band. High school students turned out in a body to boost for the college. Bullfrogs were much in evidence, forcing every student of East Central into the grand stand for concentrated yelling. Policing of the grounds also fell to their lot.

May Parade Tonight
A down town parade, led by the band, was held by college pepsters last night. This was the second demonstration preceding the season opener. In case East Central takes today's game, another big demonstration will be held tonight. Several stunts were held at intervals during the game.

Visiting players were in fine condition in spite of their defeat last week. Coach Ivan Grove was also confident that his team, bolstered by several last year letter men, would be able to walk over the "rookies" from East Central. His team has the advantage of playing together this year. The past week was spent in strengthening the weak places disclosed in the Bisons' opening game.

In a hard scrimmage Thursday afternoon the high school and East Central seconds battled for more than an hour. It was of advantage to both teams, as the second string men are to have many hard games this year. Coach Cox also was trying out a number of new plays he hopes to use in future high school games. Thompson's first team was not out Thursday, taking the day off to condition themselves for the season's first test.

High school players left the field Thursday much the wiser for their experience. Those players who had had little experience had an opportunity to learn more of the game. This will help the squad in its games later this season. After making a flying start, Coach Cox hopes to continue his march to a season's victory.

Atoka high school is booked for a game here this year. Ada's hardest defeat last year was at the hands of Atoka. Before his men had had time to get started, Cox took them to Atoka where they were battered for a 25 to 0 defeat.

In the case of the college, Coach Thompson was glad to work out his seconds, as many of them are showing up good enough to make the first team in 1923, he said.

Quality of Mercy Not Strained

CHICAGO, OCT. 6.—Somewhere in a humble cottage here a man and woman with their six weeks' old babe, are preparing to start life anew.

Two weeks ago the little home was steeped in gloom for the man, husband and father, Joseph Vacek, had been seized by the stern minions of the law and returned to a cell in Joliet prison from which he had escaped four years ago.

But even though despair was pounding at the door the woman, wife and mother, only hugged her babe to her breast and prayed, hopefully, that her husband would be brought back to her.

Hadn't he been a model, a husband of husbands? Hadn't he denied himself everything for her and the babe? Hadn't he given up his course in night school so the babe could have the extra $5 a week?

But back, way back, twelve years ago Joseph Vacek killed his father. He was but a slip of a lad, just sixteen, when it happened. His father had attacked his mother. He rushed to her protection.

And as a reward the penitentiary doors closed upon him. For eight years he was just one of the many in the big stone house. Then came his escape. The very earth seemed to have swallowed him.

Vacek returned here and obtained employment. He worked steadily, conscientiously, honestly, and finally a girl entered his life. He didn't tell her. They were married here under the name of Maloney.

Then he set about to prove that he was a man. A real man. Eventually he would tell her his story, but only when he had proved his metal. He studied nights.

Then came the babe. And soon the street car strike. Vacek walked the floor with the child all night and then walked to work.

He quit his night studies so the child could have the extra $5 a week.

Then came the law. An officer had recognized him. The parting and—Joliet.

The young mother refused to despair. Instead she went to Judge McKinley, her husband's trial judge. By this time Vacek's case was well known. She pleaded with authorities and thousands pleaded with her.

Now Vacek is back at home. Gov. Len Small answering the pleas from all sides pardoned the model husband and father—

And so once more the little cottage is bathed in the sunlight of happiness, two hearts have been weighed in the fires of adversity and now—Vacek is going back to night school.

GARBER CASE TO BE RULED ON BY STATE ATTORNEY

OKLAHOMA CITY, Oct. 6.—A ruling on the injunction directed against the secretary of the state election board restraining him from placing the name of M. C. Garber, Republican congressional nominee in the eighth district on the general election ballot will be made late today by Attorney General George Short, it was announced this afternoon.

The attorney general said that an assistant had a report on the case ready to submit, but that since his return to the city this morning he had not had time to digest the report.

The injunction was obtained in the district court of Woodward county and signed by the county judge acting for the district judge. It alleged that Garber filed an incomplete account of his expenses in the primary election.

CITY WARDS ARE DIVIDED NOW IN NINE PRECINCTS

More Voting Boxes Will be Maintained in City by Recent Change.

TO START OCTOBER 26

All Voters Must Present Certificates to be Modified Soon.

Growth of the city and the enfranchisement of women has so increased the number of voters that the election board has established more than one voting box in each ward of Ada, according to an announcement Friday by B. M. Bobbitt, secretary of the county board.

The first ward has been divided into three precincts and each of the other three wards will have two precincts.

This will make it possible for each set of election officials to complete their work within a reasonable time. At the August primary it was not until noon of the day following the election that the last returns were in, although the election officials worked hard all night.

The new order takes effect October 26. Between that time and the date of the election every voter must present his or her registration certificate to the registrar of the ward of their residence for cancellation, then register for the particular precinct in which they will vote. The precinct registrars will be announced in ample time for all to have due notice and change their certificates accordingly.

Precinct 1, Ward 1—Bounded by Constant on the east, Main street on the north, Townsend on the west and city limits on the south. Voting place, Hays School building. Officials, M. O. Matthews, R. C. Garrett and K. D. Johnson.

Precinct 2, Ward 1—Bounded on the east by Mississippi, north by Main, west by Constant, south by city limits. Voting place, Boggs Motor company, 307 East Main. Officials, H. J. Huddleston, E. H. Driskill and C. V. Gowing.

Precinct 3, Ward 1—Bounded on the north by Main, west by Mississippi, south and east by city limits. Voting place, Hays School building. Officials, T. O. Dandridge, Clarence West and O. E. Parker.

Precinct 1, Ward 2—Bounded on east by Mississippi, south by Main, west by Townsend, north by city limits. Voting place, Howard and Zorn building, 113 North Broadway. Officials, P. T. Drummond, Robert Kerr, Slade Norman.

Precinct 2, Ward 2—Bounded on south by Main, west by Mississippi, north and east by city limits. Voting place, Willard School. Officials, C. F. Green, R. F. Wilborn and John Huber.

Precinct 1, Ward 3—Bounded on south by Main, east by Townsend, west by Oak, north by city limits. Voting place, Haney building north-west corner of Main and Townsend. Officials, J. H. Collins, B. P. Wall and D. W. Shilling.

Precinct 2, Ward 3—Bounded on east by Oak, south by Main, north and west by city limits. Voting place, Glenwood School. Officials, Joe Jared, J. H. Page and M. Lamb.

Precinct 1, Ward 4—Bounded on north by Main, east by Townsend, south by sixteenth street and west by city limits. Voting place, Ada Marble and Granite Works, 217 East Twelfth. Officials, O. J. David.

Ranks of Bootlegger Invaded by Fair Sex

OKLAHOMA CITY, Oct. 6.—Dainty femininity is driving hard for the capture of one of the last strongholds of mere man, according to Oklahoma county officials.

Bootlegging, a thrifty business in which men heretofore enjoyed a complete monopoly is already honeycombed with feminine vendors.

Court records for the past year show that 30 percent of the liquor cases in the Oklahoma county court have been against women.

That juries are lenient with women is revealed by the fact that 29 have been arrested for liquor violations in the past 12 months and only two convicted.

The 29 liquor charges against women in Oklahoma county courts in the past year were disposed of as follows: dismissed, 6; convicted, 2; stricken from docket, 3; filed with no further action, 18.

Women are the most ingenious bootleggers, Sheriff Ben Dancy asserts. They contrive to hide their liquor better and draw their clientele of drinkers more quietly.

Raiders have found that women make the most elaborate "booze plants."

That the invasion of women into the liquor game is growing fast is indicated that for the year Oct. 1920 to Oct. 1921 only 11 were charged with liquor violations against 29 for the next 12 months.

Raiders this year have netted women liquor vendors in at least three districts known as "exclusive". Their class of trade is generally higher than the patronage of the man bootleggers, their quality higher and their prices far higher.

NOT GUILTY SAYS JURY OF MASTERS

Allen Man Acquitted Upon Rape Charge Friday; Argument Short.

After being out but a short time this morning, the jury which sat in the trial of W. W. Masters, Allen, charged with first degree rape, returned a verdict of acquittal. The defendant, who has been held without bond for several months pending trial, was released.

Closing arguments were brief. They followed the examination of several witnesses by the defense for the purpose of establishing the improbability of the alleged assault.

Masters was charged with a criminal abuse of Hester Whitehead, 9, at Allen on January 22, this year. Principal testimony for the defense was given by several small nephews of Masters, who were living in the defendant's home at Allen at the time of the alleged assault.

Jurors who tried the case were H. Turner, J. M. Tilley, I. E. Catron, C. M. Nelson, C. B. Oliver, T. N. Nickell, Claud Price, O. A. Holway, W. C. Mullinax, Floyd Purser, H. H. Southard, and D. T. Bourn.

$200 IN RAILWAY REVENUE DENIED

Taxes on Frisco are Held Up By Injunction on State Board.

Revenue to the amount of $200 obtained annually from the Frisco Railway company cannot be used by the city at this time, according to a notice to Finance Commissioner Charley Deaver from County Clerk H. Irwin.

The railroad company recently enjoined the state board of equalization for certifying to the valuation of the road's property, which prohibits the city from drawing warrants on the fund as is usually done. The valuation of the road in this county is approximately $41,330, which would amount to more than $200 in revenue to the city.

The matter is now being worked out in the state courts and it is expected to be a matter of months before it is finally settled. This does not greatly affect the city, it was said, and no default in the funds are expected to result. Steps were being taken by the city commissioners to take care of the deficiencies caused by the small amount, until the question is definitely settled.

Many towns and districts of the state have been affected by injunctions granted several of the state's largest railroads. Ada is less affected than any town its size, it is believed here. Many schools in the state were forced to close on account of the injunctions, but no schools in this county will be greatly affected, according to County Superintendent Floyd.

Heavy Rain Checks Forest Fires Today in Ontario Regions

COBALT, Ont., Oct. 6.—A heavy rain this morning had virtually quenched the forest fires about the city which took a toll of possibly sixty lives and wiped the town of Halleybury and several small settlements out of existence.

Thirty-three bodies have been recovered in the charred wreckage that a week ago was Halleybury. Many more persons are missing. Train loads of tents, food, bedding and other supplies are arriving now to aid the five thousand homeless who had wandered into Cobalt.

HARD SWATTING M'GRAW FORCES TRIUMPH AGAIN

Deacon John Scott Pulls Surprise on American League Leaders.

BANCROFT SCORES 2

Nationals' Shortstop is Coupled with Frisch in Playing Hero.

SCORE BY INNINGS.

Giants	002	000	100—3 12 1
Yanks	000	000	000—0 4 1

NEW YORK, Oct. 6.—The Giants plastered their ancient enemies, the Yankees, with a coating of white-wash this afternoon and won their second victory over the American League champions 3 to 0.

Deacon John Scott, resurrected and rejuvenated after all the major league clubs regarded his pitching arm as ruined beyond repair, stood out there on the hurling hill and made the Yankees look foolish. He had speed galore, mixing it with fine curves. Hoyt pitched a loose game for the Yankees.

The Giants scored twice in their half of the third. Scott led off with a single and went to third when Ward batted Bancroft's grounder. Hoyt took Groh's grounder and ran Scott down, Bancroft going to third and Groh to second on the play. Frisch then sent across the first run of the game with a sacrifice which scored Bancroft.

E. Meusel, next man up, lined in to right for a single and scored Groh. The Giants' next tally came in the seventh, Bancroft scoring his second run of the game on Frisch's single to right.

First Inning
Yankees—Witt laid one down the first base line and was out to Kelly; Dugan hit a liner to Young; Ruth was out to Kelly. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Giants—Bancroft was out to Hoyt unassisted; Groh singled to right; Frisch singled to center; E. Meusel hit into a double play, Ward to Scott to Pipp. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Second Inning
Yankees—Pipp singled; R. Meusel fouled out to Snyder; Schang flew out to Cunningham; Pipp stole second; Ward was out, Bancroft to Kelly. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Giants—Young lifted a single to left field, but was out trying to stretch into a double; R. Meusel to Ward; Kelly was out to Scott to Pipp; Cunningham singled over first base; Smith was out, Ruth to Pipp. No runs two hits, no errors.

Third Inning
Yankees—Scott flew out to Young; Hoyt grounded out to Kelly on an easy roller; Witt bunted down third base line; Dugan was out Smith to Kelly. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Giants—J. Scott singled to left center; Bancroft forced Scott, Ward to Scott; Groh hit to Hoyt, who caught Bancroft going home to Schang; Groh going to second; Frisch flew out to Witt; E. Meusel singled to right, scoring Groh; Young forced E. Meusel, Ward to Scott. One run, two hits, no errors.

Game by plays was discontinued after the third inning on account of static becoming so strong that an accurate score could not be received over radio. Rain was threatening the game in the fourth inning.

Showers in East to Break Long Drought Bureau Reports Now

(By the Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Oct. 6.—Marked changes in atmospheric pressure in the country east of the Mississippi upset the dope in the weather bureau today and showers generally in the eastern states shortly will break long drought that has gripped most of the country.

Weather bureau officials were taken with surprise completely, they said, when the sudden change was observed. Disturbances which will provide the parched country side with refreshing showers originated in northern Canada, it was explained, where there are few weather observation stations. Consequently when a "high" appeared over the St. Lawrence valley and New England last night, the observers here had had no means of being warned before hand.

A Brazen Republican Claim

The Republican Campaign Text-Book claims credit in the name of the Republican Administration for "curing the Versailles wrong."

This will be news to those enlightened persons in all countries who are conscious of the fact that until the "Versailles wrong" is cured there will be no restoration of orderly industry in Europe. The American delegation at Versailles, headed by President Wilson, did every thing possible to avert that "wrong" and ultimately would have averted it had not the Republicans blocked the way.

For the real "versailles wrong" is the attempt under that treaty to accomplish economic impossibilities in the matter of reparations. There was strong pressure at the Peace Conference to name an impossible amount in the treaty. But President Wilson succeeded in blocking this to the extent of having the Reparations Commission created. Then the Republicans in Congress refused to authorize the appointment of an American member of the Reparations Commission. The American Government through such a representative could have done much to further a common sense policy. But the Republicans willer otherwise and as a result the world, including the United States, has been suffering from the "Versailles wrong" ever since.—Star-Telegram.

Former Governor Haskell is coming back to Oklahoma to make some speeches in behalf of the Democratic ticket. Haskell no doubt has a strong fellow feeling for Jack Walton. Haskell himself was regarded as a radical in his day and all sorts of direful predictions were made about the effect his election would have in discouraging enterprise and driving capital from the state, but nothing of the sort occurred. His administration was one of marked progress and no legitimate enterprise ever suffered as a result of his actions. His participation in the present campaign will undoubtedly prove effective.

Dr. Hurty on retiring from the office of state health commissioner of Indiana after a service of 26 years, thanks those who opposed his efforts during his term of office. It spurred him to greater efforts, he said, and caused him to make a better record than he would have made had he been permitted to drift along with everything serene. His career is another case of a kite rising against the wind and with it. A man who is too weak to face opposition and win in spite of it never gets anywhere.

Being the targets of knockers has made pessimists of many men who started out with the best of intentions. After doing their best for their communities and then being continually attacked and their motives questioned by the element that never does anything for their community, their ardor naturally cools and they are inclined to draw back into their shells and let the knockers have the field. However, the knocker has always existed and can never be eradicated. It is just a question of making progress in spite of him. None will be made if people stop to listen to his howling.

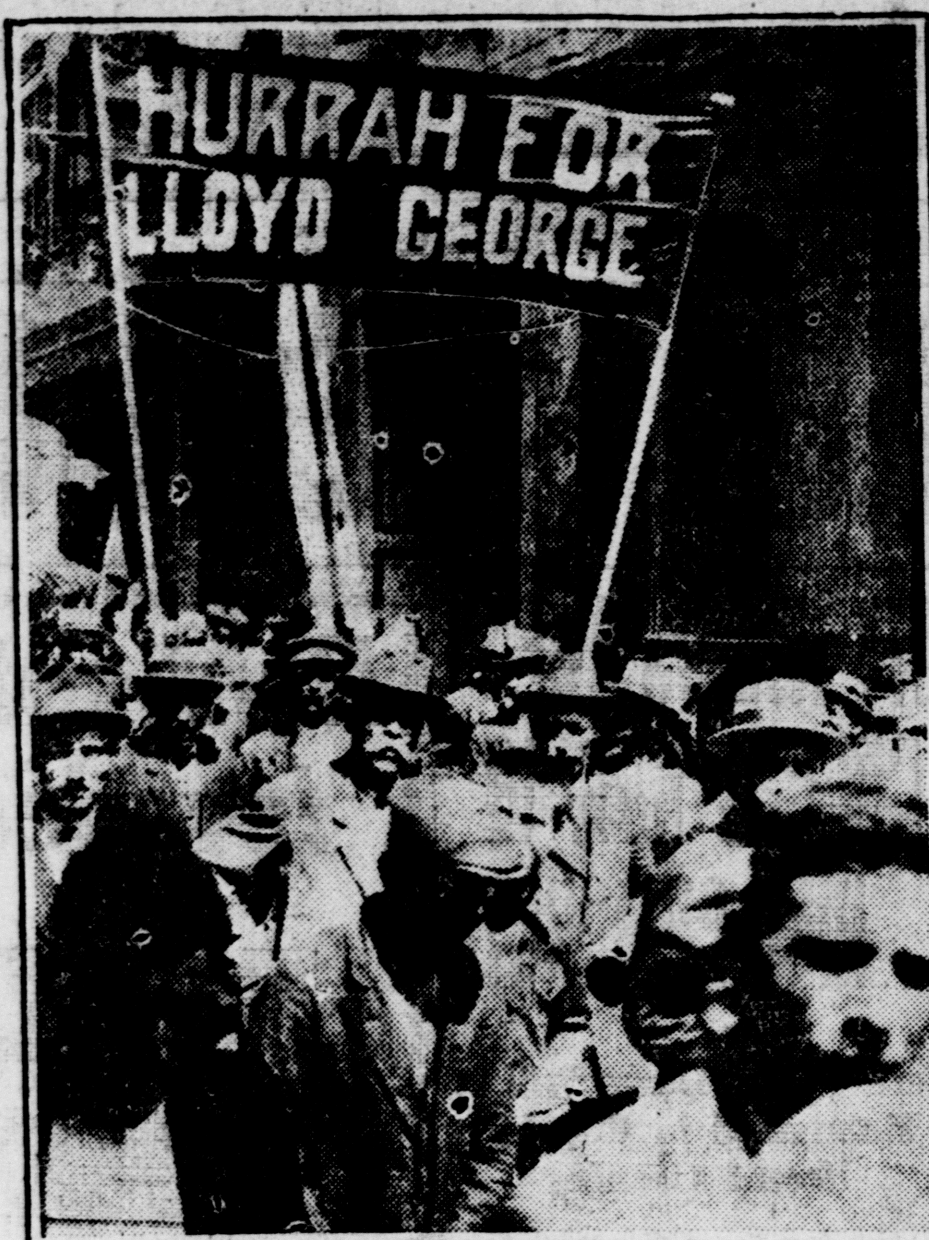

Is Mrs. Felton, appointed to succeed Senator Watson of Georgia, a full-fledged senator or not? The senate is not in session and unless a special session is called will not convene until December. At the November election a successor to Watson will be chosen and he will be sworn in when congress convenes. Mrs. Felton will thus have no opportunity of exercising her prerogatives and then comes the question of her salary for the time she serves through this appointment. It brings up some interesting phases of law to say the least.

Polish money is just about as worthless as any other in Europe just now, but the thrifty Poles are going ahead with their industries and gradually getting back to normal living. Among other things they have raised an enormous potato crop this year and will export several million bushels which they will probably trade for goods of other nations which they need. Potatoes will do as well as anything for a medium of exchange if a market can be found and this seems to be the least of their troubles now.

The Southern Commercial Congress is scheduled to hold a meeting at Chicago next month. Muskogee secured a meeting of this organization several years ago at a cost of several thousand dollars expecting to hear speeches from nearly all the big men of the South whose names were displayed on the program. Few of these gentlemen appeared and Muskogee regarded the affair as something of a frost.

It is not the number of years that a man lives that counts; it is what he accomplishes while in the world that measures his real span of life.

When this photo was taken the hundreds of thousands of residents of Smyrna were approaching death and disaster. Farmers' Column

By Byron Norrell

The News is highly pleased to learn that Archie Solomon of Vanoss, a twelve year old club boy, won first prize at Oklahoma City and second at Muskogee on a display of ten ears of corn. Archie is one of the hustlers of the county and his success shows what a boy can do if he tries. I have always contended that Pontotoc county is fortunate in having J. B. Hill and Mrs. Duvall as its demonstration agents and this helps to bear out my contention.

Some farmers are about through picking cotton but others evidently have considerable in their fields from the number of bales arriving every day. While there will not be enough to put them all square with the world the crop has done much to ease the situation. A banker told me that twenty-four men had paid their notes in full in one day recently.

The dry weather has put a crimp in fall gardens this year, but if the frost stays off awhile longer perhaps some things may pull through. When it is seasonable a fall garden is well worth the attention it requires to raise it.

Pontotoc county has gone strong on syrup this year. On every hand the mills have been at work and a good quality has been made. In buying syrup our home people should be given first call. I have always been a strong believer in patronizing home folks first.

"I have just finished a treatment of your wonderful remedy and can say it has done wonders for me already. For the past five years I have been unable to eat any but the lightest food and that but sparingly, as any food caused me to bloat with gas. I was reduced to a skeleton of ninety pounds, and was on the road to the boneyard. A friend in Birmingham sent me a bottle of Mayr's Wonderful Remedy, which I took, and I am sure it will entirely cure me of my trouble, judging from what it brought from me and the way I feel." Revival of Christian Healing.

(Tulsa World)
The first great need of the church today is the revival of her ministry of healing, according to the finding of the joint commission on ministry of healing of the Protestant Episcopal church in the United States, reported today to the house of bishops and in the house of deputies in triennial convention here.

"The church must renew," said the report, "and act more confidently and constantly on her faith in the power of prayer—especially in the power of her corporate intercession—to heal the sick, whatever the means or process by which the blessing comes."—Extract from Associated Press Dispatch reporting the Episcopal convention at Portland.

Thus after nearly two thousand years the principle teachings of Jesus Christ, the highest points of his ministry while on earth, are officially recognized by one of the earliest organizations to set itself to the task of carrying forth his words and works.

The secular student of history, philosophy and world affairs in general, has always been perplexed at the disposition of religious organizations to predicate their creed and their mission upon a single phase of the Nazarene's ministry or philosophy. While each such organization has clear warrant in Holy Writ for the forms practiced; not one has uniformly practiced all of the forms prescribed by the Great Preceptor. And of all the teachings and doings of the Christ none was more important than his healing of the sick, and concerning none of them did he lay a more imperative command upon his followers than concerning physical healing.

He not only positively commanded them to go forth and heal the sick and perform the other so-called miracles he had performed, but he explicitly told them that it was through their ability to do such things that they should be sure of their own fitness to serve him.

It was not an evangelical church that at last, after thousands of years, revived Christian healing, but an evangel of a new sect; and, strange enough, no greater critic or bigoted opposition was encountered anywhere than in the pulpits of the various evangelical churches of the world. Ministers almost without exception, both Protestant and Catholic, were called on to inveigh against the healing art as practiced by this sect. Yet a moment's Christian contemplation and reflection should have convinced them how utterly absurd their opposition was.

For they preached the efficacy of prayer; they preached the omnipotence of God; they preached the power of God to do anything, and expressed a confident belief in every word set forth in the Bible. And all the while in that very Bible was both the command for them to engage in Christian healing of the physical body and the positive promise that if they were sincere in their professions of faith and love that they would exercise the power to successfully practice the healing art.

It is to this sect referred to, which in the face of misrepresentation and scorn has grown during the last two decades as no other Christian organization has grown, that credit must be given for the action of the Episcopal commission and the contemplated action of other government bodies of other Protestant churches.

Saving Persons to Kill Them.

(Fort Worth Record)
Fifty-three persons were killed and four hundred and seventy-eight were injured in 974 automobile accidents in fifteen principal cities of the United States last week. These are figures gathered by the United Press association. One has no way of determining how many accidents there were in the entire country nor how many deaths and injuries resulted from them. But the number must have been several times the toll for just fifteen cities.

The cold statistics are pregnant with meaning to a nation which is taking pride in the success of its medical men and sanitarians in cutting the death rate from disease. They mean that the lengthening of human life by the patient toil of science is being thrown away through carelessness. The juggernauts of gasoline are cutting down the people medical science is saving to the world.

Los Angeles leads the gruesome list with 463 accidents and 193 injured. For some reason other cities exceed the coast metropolis in fatalities. Only three died in Los Angeles motor accidents last week, while eleven funerals of motor victims were held in Chicago and the same number in Milwaukee. But the Los Angeles accident list was nearly three times that of Chicago, next city, and the injuries were nearly four times the Windy city's record.

Here is work for the public authorities, for the civic organizations, for the insurance companies, and for the automobile manufacturers and dealers whose business is cast under a shadow not at all their fault. Carelessness is undoubtedly the chief contributing cause of motor accidents, incompetent driving is another, bad traffic regulation a third. Liquor is a factor, too.

Not one of those causes but can be easily removed. Education and strict traffic control will do much to cure the first, licensing of driv-

Scientific study and a shifting of the guiding policy of traffic control from hard and fast speed limits to careful driving will help on the third. The authorities know how to control the fourth. If human life is worth anything it is worth the cost of these measures. It is to the personal interest of the public to change our staggering record of motor death and destruction. It is to the financial interest of the persons and institutions named to cut down the death rate. Now let us have action.

SEPTEMBER WAS DRIEST MONTH ON RECORD HERE

September was one of the driest months on record at Ada, as was indicated by the observations of Prof. E. A. Macmillan. The total for the month was only 78-100 of an inch. The heaviest shower of the month fell on the tenth. It registered 52-100.

September was unusually warm, the first day was the hottest with the thermometer at 103. There were 26 clear days, 2 cloudy and 2 part cloudy.

Rainfall for the nine months of the year totalled 28.70 inches.

The attraction at the McSwain theatre today is Elaine Hammerstein's presentation of her newest film-play, "Evidence." Edward Montagna wrote the scenario and George Archambault, who has supervised a number of Miss Hammerstein's presentations, directed the new offering. Niles Welch, who has been Miss Hammerstein's leading man in her recent film-plays, again heads her supporting company and Constance Bennett, who was with Miss Hammerstein in "Reckless Youth," is once more cast for a role that "starts something" when the plot begins to unfold. Earnest Hilliard co-operates with Miss Bennett in the chicanery that leads to a sensational climax as the prelude to the happiest of endings. Miss Hammerstein appears in the guise of an actress who marries a scion of wealth against the advice of his aristocratic family. As a consequence the bride gets a chilly welcome to the inner circle of snobbery and in the long run

Wilson Reports More Room
Needed in Every one of Higher Schools.

(By the Associated Press)

OKLAHOMA CITY, Oct. 6. — Greatly increased enrollment in all higher educational institutions in the state has brought about a situation in which the schools are short both in equipment and teaching staffs and are handicapped in efficient operation, according to letters received by R. H. Wilson, state superintendent of education, from officials of many schools.

At the suggestion of The Associated Press the state superintendent recently requested all colleges and universities, both public and private, to supply him with comparative figures on enrollment Sept. 22 this year and last year, and to state whether or not the schools were crowded.

John G. Mitchell, president of Central State Teachers college at Edmond, where the increase in enrollment was 47 per cent, in commenting on the crowded conditions of the school wrote:

"We have practically thirty classes with from 45 to 109 students in each, after using as many student assistants as our funds will admit. It is a matter of practical impossibility with our forces to handle the situation. We are doing the best we can with what we have. Teachers are teaching during their afternoon conference periods and also extra classes in the afternoon are being held after the regular closing hour." The enrollment at this school is 878 this year.

President R. H. King, of Connors State School of Agriculture, Warner, wrote:

Too Many Boys

"The conditions are very much crowded, for boys especially. We have a number of boys sleeping in the basement of the school building, and a number sleeping in an old house once used for chickens." The increase at this school is from 125 to 140.

From Phillips University of Enid President I. N. McCash wrote:

"The institution is crowded to its utmost limit. For lack of room I have had to refuse numbers of applications from girls for dormitory room. We have lost numbers because of our inability to accommodate them. We do not have room in our chapel for the attendance of all at chapel services." The increase was from 1,020 to 1065.

Margery L. Magruder, secretary at Northwestern State Teachers college, Tahlequah, wrote: "More equipment and a larger teaching force are needed to handle the present enrollment."

"Our class rooms are taxed to capacity with many classes in education, English and history having from 75 to 100 enrolled," wrote H. G. Bennett, president of the Southeastern State Teachers college at Durant.

Deaf children of the state are handicapped for education by conditions at the state institution at Sulphur, according to J. W. Blatter, superintendent. He wrote as follows:

"There are five hundred deaf children of school age in the state. If all these knocked at our doors for admittance we would be overwhelmed. The duty of the state in this matter is plain. It should by adequate appropriation enlarge our facilities and enact a more stringent compulsory attendance law to the end that every deaf child in Oklahoma may be sent to school and receive what is the greatest boon that can be conferred on the deaf, a good education, mental, moral and industrial." The enrollment of deaf children this year was 255 on Sept. 22, and the superintendent said he expected it to reach about 300.

Need 14 Instructors

"The resources of this institution are taxed to the utmost to take care of the attendance. We should have fourteen additional instructors at the present time. The attendance now is 245 per cent of that of three years ago, but our faculty is no larger than it was then." Thus writes A. Linscheid, president of East Central State Teachers college, at Ada, where the percent of increased enrollment was larger than at any other reporting institution. The increase was 53 percent over last year, the president's figures showed. The enrollment Sept. 22 was 788, he said.

President Linscheid said every member of the faculty was teaching extra hours and all classes were oversize. He said that he himself was forced to teach part of the time each day in order to partly relieve the shortage of teachers. He said equipment was capable of taking care of only 400 students adequately.

With 525 girls enrolled at the Oklahoma Teachers College for Women at Chickasha, G. W. Austin president reported:

"We have never had such a congestion in this institution. In fact, we cannot anything like meet the demand. We have received over 200 requests for rooms that could not be filled because of not having the space. One hundred and one of these requests contained checks for $5.00 to hold the rooms and these checks have all been returned to young women scattered throughout the state."

A and M Crowded

J. B. Eskridge, president of Oklahoma Agriculture and Mechanical college at Stillwater reported: "We are very crowded indeed and it begins to look as if our fall enrollment with reach 2,000." The enrollment Sept. 22 was 1,809, he said, and it was 1,434 on the same day a year ago.

Similarly crowded conditions were reported in all schools. Superintendent Wilson said. His letter on enrollment was answered by fifteen schools from which reports were carried in an earlier statement by Mr. Wilson. Since that statement, he said, six other institutions had reported. They were:

The Connors state school of agriculture, Warner; School for the Blind, Muskogee; Panhandle Agricultural and Mechanical college, Goodwell; Phillips university, Enid; Northeastern State Teachers college, Southeastern State Teachers college.

Head No. 2—Official World War picture.

By special arrangement the local Post of the American Legion has secured the U. S. official world war picture, "America's Answer."

This picture was made in France during the war by the U. S. Signal Corps, and has been released through the Department of Public Information, to be shown as benefits for American Legion Posts over the country.

At the time of the making these pictures were to be used officially by the war department and had to be made for this purpose. Of course many men lost their lives in making these scenes, as every one of the battle scenes showed in the picture are actual photographs made during the battles.

This is quite a credit, for the Local Post as this is the only seven reel official war picture on the market, and as this picture is being shown here before some of the larger cities.

The picture will be showed Monday and Tuesday, next, at the American theatre, an admission of 15 and 35 cents to be charged. The entire proceeds of the showing to the local Legion, except the cost of securing the picture.

THE DICTATOR IS A REAL DRAMA

Richard Harding Davis' Story of Lively Revolution in Latin America is Famous

WALLACE REID HAS STAR ROLE

The international disturbances of certain romantic and ebullient South American republics, which have for years furnished the American press and humorous writers with material for exciting dispatches or clever, humorous discussions, were placed in the hall of fame by the plays of the late Richard Harding Davis, who was virtually their literary spokesman.

"The Dictator," which comes to the McSwain theatre next Monday and Tuesday as a Paramount offering with Wallace Reid in the star role, is one of this type by this author. It is the play which Willie Collier made famous on the stage and one in which Mr. Davis paints an exciting picture of volcanic life in the Latin-American continent.

Walter Woods, an experienced scenarist, translated the play to screen terms, which meant modifying it somewhat, bringing certain incidents down to date and generally applying the modern brush to the canvas, which is, however, still fresh and alluring.

Lila Lee, leading woman, has the role of Juanita, dainty daughter of Dr. Rivas, a self-styled "liberator," played by Theodore Kosloff. Mr. Reid, as Brooks Travers, falls in love with her and then the trouble begins. From Los Angeles the scene shifts to a tiny Latin-American republic where a bitter war between rebels and regulars is waged. James Cruze, a veteran Paramount director, handled the megaphone.

A junior Red Cross hospital has been opened at Calgary, Canada, for treatment of children whose parents are without funds.

DROUGHT HOLDS MANY SECTIONS IN FIRM GRASP

(By the Associated Press)
 WASHINGTON, Oct. 6.—With another twenty-four hours of generally fair weather forecast, for the entire section of the country from the plain states eastward, the United States weather bureau saw no immediate prospect today for a break in the protracted drought which has gripped a greater portion of the country. Attendant high temperatures also were expected to continue at least until tomorrow.
 Despite the extent and intensity of the drought, however, the damage to crops has been exceedingly small, agriculturists declare, because of the harvest generally being nearly over. The most serious effect has been the retarding of winter wheat sowing. Other sections also have suffered from the drying up of streams, wells and reservoirs.
 The menace of forest fires, already doing huge damage and threatening additional loss of life in Canada in addition to areas now burning in northern Minnesota, is by far the most feared consequence of the drought.

RECORD IN AIR SMASHED TODAY BY ARMY PILOT

(By the Associated Press)
 SAN DIEGO, Calif., Oct. 26.—Shortly before 11 o'clock this morning Lieut. McReedy and Kelly, flying the army monoplane F-2, in an endurance record flight, dropped a note stating that the airplane was performing perfectly and said that they would remain in the air until their oil and gasoline were exhausted. At that time they had been in the air 29 hours and 4 minutes.
 SAN DIEGO, Oct. 6.—All aviation endurance records have been smashed by Lieutenants John MacReady and Oakland Kelly, of the United States army, who at eight o'clock this morning had been aloft in their big monoplane, T-2, exactly 26 hours and four minutes.

STINSON HOLDS RECORD FOR SUSTAINED FLIGHT
 NEW YORK, Oct. 6.—The world's record for sustained flight in a heavier than air flying machine is held by Edward Stinson, and Lloyd Bertaud, who on December 30, 1921, remained aloft above Roosevelt Field, Mineola, N. Y., for 26 hours, 19 minutes and 35 seconds. It was stated today by aviation authorities.
 It was stated that the San Diego flight had probably a record for United States army aviators.
 In one year the population of one of the important watch making towns in Switzerland has decreased by nearly 1,500 on account of the depression in the industry.

2000 MAY COME TO CEREMONIAL

City Prepares to Receive Vast Throng at Shrine Meet Next Month.

The campaign for novices for the Thanksgiving Ceremonial to be given by the Pontotoc County Shrine club, continued today with marked success. Joe Cole, chairman of the membership committee, said this morning that there was little doubt that the required number would be obtained.

He expressed the opinion that at least 35 would be recruited from Ada. Another dozen is expected from the county and several are expected from Okmulgee, McAlester, Coalgate, Sulphur and other places in this district. Sixty-five are wanted in all.

Fifty of this number are wanted for India Temple at Oklahoma City. Fifteen will go to Bedouin Temple at Muskogee. In case both Temples are brought here to receive their new members, one of the largest crowds of visitors in Ada's history will be attracted it was predicted.

In case the ceremonial is held, at least 2,000 people will be here, it was predicted. If the affair is as successful as is hoped, there is a probability of bringing 5,000 Shriner and their friends to Ada on either November 17 or 24, the final date yet to be decided.

To Meet Sunday. A meeting will be held Sunday, at which the state officers will be present, to decide the date. Committees also will meet to begin plans for the ceremonial. Great things are being suggested. The ceremonial will continue all of one day and one night.

Crowds of automobiles bearing Shriner and visitors, trains loaded to capacity and even airplanes are expected to bring the outsiders here for the big affair. Ada will be thrown open and one of its most gala events will be held.

Neither expense nor trouble is to be spared for this event. Dances, banquets, parades, side entertainments, smokers, gatherings and the ceremonial are on the program. This will be the greatest Shrine ceremonial in the history of this section of the state, it is believed.

NIGHT SCHOOL TO OPEN ON MONDAY NIGHT HILL SAYS

Those who expect to join the night school to be opened next week by Ada high are requested to be at the high school building at seven o'clock Monday evening, according to a report sent out today.

As many students as possible are wanted. At this time final plans for the school will be made, many arrangements being left over until a conference with the prospective students has been held.

Little doubt today was felt but that the school would be a success. Only a small part of each evening will be required for the work, it is pointed out, and much good is expected to result. Students who have already graduated from high school and who want to take up a special subject, can join the class.

Those who have not completed high school and who wish to let the work done in night school count towards graduation may do so. Prof. W. A. Hill and the teachers for the classes will be on hand Monday evening. Both boys and girls are welcome to enroll.

It is expected that the class will grow to about 20 students. Subjects to fit the demands will be offered. This will be the first night school that has ever been organized by the local high school.

In case there are many others who wish to join and who have not yet sent in their names and the subjects they want, they should get in touch with Mr. Hill at the high school immediately.

Grant Hornaday in Second Rail Wreck Within Short Time

Grant Hornaday, whom many people of Ada will remember as being here several weeks last winter as a special officer of the Federal Reserve Bank looking after the interests of that institution in connection with the M and P Bank while it was closed, was in another railroad wreck a few days ago.

Mr. Hornaday more than a year ago was in one wreck and remained in the hospital for three months. He was in a Pullman car last Monday night between Oklahoma City and Tulsa when the car turned over, hurling him across the smoker and bruising him considerably against a door.

SPEAKER SORRY THAT WINE AND BEER ARE SOLD

(By the Associated Press) ROCHESTER, N. Y., Oct. 6.—"If the use of beer and light wines should again be permitted in this country, we would have a national drink bill of $5,000,000,000 a year; the saloon would be with us once more; whisky also would come back, and we would have a new evil in the widespread drinking by women." These statements were made here last night by the Rev. Deets Pickett, research secretary of the Board of Temperance, Prohibition and Public Morals of the Methodist Episcopal Church, in an address to the delegates assembled for the Genesee conference of the church.

Supporting his allegations Dr. Pickett said in part:

"When the nation closed the saloons our drink bill was nearly $2,500,000,000. The present drink bill in Great Britain, with about 40,000,000 people, is 470,000,000, or approximately $2,250,000,000, which we understand, is practically double what it was before the war. With increased prices and greater consumption, due to after-war tendencies, there is no doubt that our liquor bill would be $5,000,000,000 annually, not including the incidental losses to the people caused by the renewed traffic. According to Charles Lenon, of the American Federation of Labor, the working men of the United States contributed 70 per cent of the drink bill in pre-prohibition days. What would it mean to lower the standard of living of our people, particularly of our working classes, to the tune of $5,000,000,000 at one time?"

"The American saloon was a beer saloon, not a whisky saloon. All of its institutional evils, including its brothel accompaniment, its gambling hells and side-entrances for women introduced by the brewer-owned saloon, would thrive just as well if not a drop of whisky were sold. You cannot open 200,000 saloons in this country and keep them from selling whisky. The saloon never obeyed any law passed for its regulation except the law compelling it to pay a tax, and the evasions of that were notorious.

"We would have a new evil in widespread drinking by women," Dr. Pickett declared. "The American woman was kept out of the American saloon. The American man considered her too good for the debauching influence of beer. Very few 'respectable' women drank at all in America in the old days. But the old standards of conduct for women are passing away under the influence of the new feminism, and we have not yet had time for the establishment of new standards. In this transition time, the influence of the saloon, and the trade, urged by an economic motive and pushed by every method of trade promotion, would be perilous to American womanhood."

Who Can Help Find County's Mother Goose

Indiana Woman Seeks Name of Woman With Double Quadruplets.

"There was an old woman Who lived in a shoe; She had so many kiddies—"

So goes the old mother goose rhyme. And now comes another lady who is seeking Pontotoc county's family or nursery story fame.

Following is an exact reproduction, except for the signature, of a letter which was received by the News today:

"Ada Daily News,

Ada, Okla.

Dear Sirs:—

Am writing you for a little information which perhaps you can furnish me. I would like to know if there isn't some people living near Ada that the mother gave birth to 8 children at one time each averaging two pounds apiece. Would like also to know the doctor attending this mother and her name. Any other facts that you can obtain and forward me about the case sure will be appreciated. My object is to have this verified, but most of all would like to know the doctor attending. Thanking you in advance for favor asked and trusting to hear from you in a few days, I am

Yours Truly, Mrs. C. W. Valparaiso, Ind."

GOVERNMENT TO STOP OIL FLOW ON TRIBE LAND

(By the Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6.—In order to protect land holding Indians from losses which result from the drop in oil prices, Indian Commissioner Burk not only has ordered production stopped entirely on the lands of the Osages in Oklahoma, but has asked the superintendent of all Indian reservations containing oil to co-operate in preventing over production. It was said at the Indian bureau today that where-ever prices went below the cost of production, as was declared to be the case in the Osage properties in Oklahoma, the wells would be shut down. The policy has not been applied, however, to any but Indian oil land.

CHINESE TONGS SEEK CASH FOR RUSHING WORK

(By the Associated Press)

PORTLAND, Ore., Oct. 6.—In a half lighted hall, bedecked with tinsel and tassels of riotous oriental colors, Chinese delegates from many states to the national convention of Hip-Sing-Tong pursued their deliberations yesterday and today.

Purely benevolent are the purposes of the gathering, according to the official Tong press agent, a young Chinese who, verbally and sartorially, might well have been mistaken for American.

The Hip Sing Tong, he added, plans to go into business in earnest in the construction and operation of woolen or cotton plants in China as a working ground for the capital of affluent members and prosperous individual tongs. And then three new buildings are wanted by the "Hip" to keep company with the $1,000 structure built in San Francisco, the national headquarters last year.

Money is to be raised at this convention for buildings in Hong Kong, Seattle, Chicago and New York.

DEAN OF SPORT WRITERS SENDS IN "30" FRIDAY

(By the Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Oct. 6.—Joseph McGinn, for many years a sporting reporter for the Associated Press and known to newspaper men all over the country as the dean of New York sporting writers, died today at his home in Brooklyn after a year's illness.

Born in Ireland in 1861, Mr. McGinn worked until 1884 on the Londonderry Journal, Belfast Morning News, and Freeman's Journal. Then he came to this city, working on various papers before he became connected with the Associated Press in 1893. Mr. McGinn, who covered scores of international sporting events, was regarded as an expert on boxing and in the day when official decisions were not given in this state his opinion was generally taken as the final word.

"I offer greetings to my friends in Constantinople and hope soon to meet them personally. Peace will be concluded with the realization of our national aspirations.

"The whole world is now with us. Humanity applauds us. The saner spirit even of Great Britain favors our cause and many of her public men who hitherto have misguidedly opposed us have seen the truth and changed their sentiments towards us."

FRENCH TO PROTEST GREEKS GOING TO THRACE

(By the Associated Press)

PARIS, Oct. 6.—The French government has instructed its minister at Athens to protest against the Greek government having sent reinforcements to the Greek army in Thrace.

The impropriety of sending troops into one of the disputed regions at the moment an armistice is in negotiation will be pointed out, as will the view that the Greek government, by this action, is adding to the embarrassment of the situation and to that of the allies.

The form of the French representation is described as firm.

PEACE CONFERENCE IS DELAYED FOR REPLIES

CONSTANTINOPLE, Oct. 6.—The reassembling of the Mudanian conference was postponed today until evening because replies had not been received to the latest Kemalist notes. The Kemalists have demanded that their troops be allowed to enter eastern Thrace as soon as the Turkish administration has been re-established and allied control withdrawn, that is, within one month.

It Was a Hard Fight But Ada Battery Won the War!

By a Battery "F" Rookie
(Following is a comic version of the results of the recent encampment of Ada guardsmen at Ft. Sill, written by one of the members of Battery "F", 160th Field Artillery.)

It was a bang, bang, boom, boom affair—so say the wise ones—and they all admit that Battery "F" of the 160th F. A. was the star shell of the whole caboodle.

From the time that we slept on the hard concrete sidewalk outside the armory in Ada until the "ding-dong-dong" that pulled us from Ft. Sill to Ada, heaved its last sigh and its unshaved, grimy, seasoned veteran in freight uncoiled itself from its baggage and unloaded, the trip was a more gigantic and tremendous success than even our optimistic superiors expected.

We had a hard time but a good time and it was worth the price of admission. There were high spots and low spots and we managed to fit them all.

All Liked It—Hardly.
The sun blistered us, the wind blew us, the dust enveloped us, Capt. Knoph "cussed" us, it rained on us and the honorable supply sergeant didn't feed anybody but himself—yet we liked it, almost hardly.

We harnessed and then unharnessed. We washed and saddled up. We carried and rode, fed and watered the horses, we fired and unfired the tents, we fired and then cleaned the cannon, we policed the company street we were stoin from and returned all compliments. We had water thrown on us and threw water back. We tossed each other in blankets and held kangaroo court. And we "cussed" just like all good soldiers are supposed to.

We had German instructors, Irish officers, Jewish non-coms, Italian cooks, a school teacher for a first sergeant, and a Chinese army. Outside of these hardships and misfortunes, we all had a wonderful time from 1st Lt. "Lengthy" Felix (who Capt. Knoph claimed had a bad habit of explaining) to 1st Lt. "Cup-id" Brown who rode out on a horse and rode back on a caisson, with the same excuse that Mr. Grape Nuts uses—"There's a Reason."

ders were to "halt anybody that comes near my post, advance them to within six paces of me, and then draw my gun on them." One time a senny on duty halted our chief amusement officer, "Monk" West. In response to the order to "advance and be recognized" Monk retorted: "Aw, heck, you don't even know me, I only got here yesterday. And Pvt. Walter Enloe held fire, mess sergeants at bay for an hour and a half, before he succeeded in getting an answer to his call: "Somebody tell the corporal of the guard to come here, will you."

We went down to callisthenics drill and our battalion commander saw "Slim" Lillard at the head of our formation. He turned to Capt. Kerr and asked him to have that tall man back there to dismount. Once we went out on a field problem. It was hot and dusty, the horses sweated and the men "swore" (good too). We stayed out all day, came back to camp and then went "swimmin'" in Medicine Creek. Oh boy, it was a grand and glorious feelin'.

From the first shot until the last, none of those other outfits could afford any competition for us. On the first shot the old gun crawled back about four feet—and Pvt. Hess Carr "crawled" back about forty. Then with brakes "down" Gunner Corporals Jobe and Neely, and Privs. Carr and Malloy, rode, set and fired the pieces like veterans. Privs. Berger, Mansfield, Coleman and Stalter, who formed the remainder of the gun squad, stuffed cotton in their ears and gallantly went about their business. Compliments were forthcoming from instructors on direct fire, salvo fire, and volley fire, and the fire in general of all the boys.

one declared that an outfit with nerve enough to stay all day under the hot Ft. Sill sun, work like dogs, and then go to camp singing "hail the gang's all here," was alright. Governor Robertson was honored when they selected two guns from our company to fire the salute of 17 guns. Our guns managed to get away with 13 shots. Sgt. Wilenzick's won the honor of the best gun squad in the regiment for the men, including Col. Jobe, Privs. Carr, Stalter and Mansfield.

SEMI-FINALS FOR TOURNEY TO OPEN

Local Golfers Ready to Go Into Brisk Contest for Links Title.

Schedules for the first round of semi-finals in the Elks Golf Tournament, men's division, have been made out by Harry Schienberg, in charge of the event. These schedules for first round contests, which must be played off before Wednesday, August 13, were taken from scores returned from the preliminaries, he said.

Men qualifying in the first semi-finals made a score of 120 strokes or better. In making out the schedule, the men making highest scores were placed against men making lowest scores, in order that the good players would have a chance to get into the finals. This was done to make the finals more hotly contested and at the same time give the poorer players the same chance they would have had.

Scheduled matches are as follows: Harmon Ebeys vs. Roy Givens; Marshall Harris vs. W. J. Coffman; A. W. Parker vs. H. M. Constant; W. N. Mays vs. R. W. Simpson; Dennis Davis vs. C. M. Thusen, Paul Carson vs. J. G. Breco; Cliff Skirvin vs. Donovan Skirvin; H. P. Schienberg vs. Bruce Ligon.

All matches must be played in strict accordance with rules adopted by the board of directors of the club. Official score cards will be furnished and must be returned by Wednesday, August 13, properly signed and filled out, it was said.

WARD SCHOOLS WILL COMPETE IN ORCHESTRAS

A new feature for the regular course of study in ward schools of the city is being added, as evidenced by the large attendance at orchestra classes now being held on Tuesdays and Fridays at the high school building. Orchestras are being organized in each ward school as a result, and competition is expected to be keen during the forthcoming school year.

Many good musicians in the grades are being produced, it was pointed out. Twenty musicians are attending classes at the high school and new enrollments are being accepted daily. Those interested are advised to enroll at once and get the extra advantage in pre-school training.

Washington ward school has the advantage at present with the largest enrollment. Instructors believe that usable orchestras will be organized before ward schools have been in session long. Plans are also being made to increase interest and competition by putting orchestra contest for grades in the county and district track and literary meets held here annually. A cup will be awarded the winner it is promised.

"CROOL" JUDGE TAKES SPEED COP'S WORD AND BEAUTY BECOMES—OH, SO INDIGNANT

Mrs. Henry B. Warner.

By Central Press
GLOUCESTER, Mass., Aug. 6.—Kipling still has 'em guessing anent his lady and tiger proposition, but when it came to the lady or the copper a district judge here didn't guess a minute.

He verbally spanked her, yes, roundly scolded her just like a naughty little girl who spills jam on her Sunday frock about four and two-thirds minutes before church time.

And she a movie actress, too. Mrs. Henry B. Warner was the spanked beauty's name. She's the wife of Henry, the well-known "Jimmy Valentine" of the stage. Then just to make matters worse, all the while the spanking was going on, Joseph Wilson, the pride and finest of the local force, just smiled. In fact, he laughed outright.

Whereupon the screen beauty registered the height of indignation in proper movie style. It all came about after Wilson had tagged her machine while it was parked on Pleasant street. "What are you doing, officer?" she inquired.

"Tagging your machine," was the laconic reply.

"Why the insolence," but Gloucester's finest wasn't perturbed in the least. Into court they went.

"He was insolent," she told the court. "I wasn't," replied the officer.

"Who's word are you going to take? Are you going to take the policeman's before mine?" she asked the court.

"Certainly," the answer of the court was short if not sweet to the beauty's ears.

"Your behavior in the court has not been such as to influence me favorably toward you. You laughed and giggled and told stories. You have not treated this case with the respect it deserves."

The current big league baseball

And while the actress registered a dozen fiery emotions the finest of the force sneaked out of the courtroom a beefy hand hiding the smile on his rubicund face.

HIBBING, Minn.—Driven from the ranks of contenders for the lightweight boxing championship by impairment of his eyesight in a motorcycle accident, Lawrence W. (Pal) Brown consequently discontinued efforts to develop a championship punch. Since then, however, he has proven that he has a spirited change of pace and a winning stride elsewhere besides in the ring.

Brown, in the short space of five years has developed his old training camp site on a homestead near here into a thriving farm; stocked it with cows, pigs and poultry to the extent that he is considered back into running for fame, not as a pugilist, but as a sure enough, honest-to-goodness, farmer.

As a lightweight, Pal Brown fought and defeated some of the classiest 135 pounders in this country and Australia. The record book shows Brown was at his best from 1909 to 1915.

It was in the spring of 1915 that Brown was injured in a motorcycle smashup, which forced him to give up boxing.

With a wife and family to support Brown went to work just as soon as he left the hospital. He liked athletics, so he took up a special court. The former pugilist studied his athletic course evenings while clearing land on the homestead. When the war came he was appointed an athletic director and recreational supervisor at Fort Snelling, Minn.

A Physical Coach.
Returning to Hibbing after two years, Brown was given a similar appointment with the Hibbing village schools. Two years ago Brown gave up his special work and devoted all of his time to his homestead.

Now "Pal" has a herd of twenty milk cows, some blooded cattle, a collection of prize pigs and several pens of full-blooded poultry. With his wife and five youngsters "Pal" assisted by a farm hand, is milking cows, cutting hay and cultivating crops. This year's crop will be sufficient to feed the livestock this winter, while from the proceeds of the dairy "Pal" expects to finance numerous improvements for his farm.

Brown's farm consists of 120 acres. He has rented an adjoining eighty acres for pasture. Twenty acres of his farm have been cleared and are under cultivation this year. By next spring "Pal" hopes to have twice that much cleared. Brown has already harvested forty-five tons of hay and twenty tons of root crops this year.

As a side line Brown is assisting the Hibbing American Legion post to promote occasional boxing cards.

Creager Arrays Klan In Speech for G.O.P. Convention in Texas

(By the Associated Press)
FT. WORTH, Tex., Aug. 8.—Unqualified disapproval of the Ku Klux Klan, wholesale endorsement of the Harding administration, prediction that the republican party would assume control of the Texas government in a few years and a plea for unity in carrying out the party program were the high lights of the opening address of State Chairman R. B. Creager of Brownsville, before the biennial convention of Texas republicans here this morning. Chairman Creager's remarks were frequently and loudly applauded by the 250 delegates present.

OPEN GOLF MEET TO BE STARTED LATE IN MONTH

For the first time since the organization of a golf club here several months ago, an open golf tournament, with all members of the Ada club eligible to play, will be held. Entries in the open championship matches will be received up to August 15.

Players who are now out of the city and return after the allotted date will be admitted, however. At the same time names are submitted for the tournament, the average number of strokes required by the entrant to make nine holes is desired.

The tournament will decide the championship of the Ada club. Some interest has been manifested in such a tournament. The open woman champion and male champion will be decided before the tournament is closed.

NEW FALL SUITS and DRESSES

DRESSES

—Dresses and coats have been predicted to be unusually popular for this Fall Season. They are somewhat different from last year, in that the straight line effects will be worn more on formal occasions while the draped and blouse effects will be less sophisticated and more adapted for general wear.

—Our early showing consists of twill cords, Poirer twills, tricotines, serges, wool crepes, and canton crepes. Some are very uniquely trimmed in self shaded embroidery, while others are combined with a contrastive material and color.

—Prices are most moderate—

$17.50, $21 and up

SUITS

—First, we have saved you the trouble of studying hundreds of style ideas and narrowed the choice down to only those that seem to have all the elements of long life.

—More than that, we have seen to it that the materials are not only style-right in weave and coloring but of that dependable excellence of quality that intimate knowledge of textile affords you assurance.

—Twill cords, Poirer twills, Tricotines and Velours predominate among the fabrics.

$24.50, $32.50 and up
